ROCKLAND ENERGY COMMITTEE BUSY PLANNING FOR UPCOMING HOLIDAY STROLL

(ROCKLAND, MA) – Just 3 months since they first came together, the members of the Rockland Energy Committee (REC) are pleased to announce that they are taking their vision of a ‘greener’ community to the streets of Rockland this weekend by participating in the town’s Annual Holiday Stroll.

From 4-7pm on Saturday, members of the REC will be hosting a table outside of the Rockland Town Hall, located at 242 Union Street, which will feature information regarding the goals and mission of the newly-created committee, energy conservation tips, and many other surprises. Hoping to raise money for future expenses, the committee will gratefully accept a donation of $2 for a cup of Chili or Soup served with coffee/hot chocolate. Additionally, representatives from National Grid will be on hand to discuss their newly-formed partnership with the town which will help Rockland become a leader in energy efficient practices within the South Shore and throughout the Commonwealth.

“We are thrilled to join the Rockland Friends, local businesses and civic organizations, and the Rockland townspeople in an event that truly reflects the character and fabric of our town,” said Carol Perilli, Chairwoman of the Rockland Energy Committee. “Further, we are particularly excited about this opportunity to introduce the committee to the community, and share with the residents our vision of Rockland as a leader in ‘green’ technology.”

###

Established in August 2007 by a vote of the Rockland Board of Selectmen, the Rockland Energy Committee is currently made up of 5 Rockland residents – Carol Perilli, Jim Paul, Mike Mullen, Jr., Heidi Hosmer, and Frank Delprete. The committee is still accepting applications and urges those interested to apply with the Rockland Board of Selectmen. Applications can be found on the Town of Rockland website at <http://www.rockland-ma.gov>, or by calling the Selectmen’s office at (781) 871-1874 x100.
