ARJWW Water Work Licensed Contractors For Hire List

Any contractor installing, repairing, or tapping public or private water service lines in the ARJWW water system is required to have a current ARJWW Water Work License prior to beginning any work.

The following contractors have a current license to engage in the installation and repair of water service lines in the Abington Rockland Joint Water Works water system. Contractors not licensed with the Abington Rockland Joint Water Works cannot install or repair water service lines on either public or private property when connected to the ARJWW water system. If you are looking to hire a contractor for the listed work and they are not currently on the list, they must contact the Abington Rockland Joint Water Works for an application to be approved. If this list is expired, contact the Abington Rockland Joint Water Works for an up-to-date list.

Please note that the contractors on this list have indicated they are available for hire and have provided the required documentation to be licensed by the Abington Rockland Joint Water Works. This list should not be considered an endorsement or recommendation from the ARJWW.
